

April 2007 News Releases

The News & Media Relations group prepared the following news releases during April, 2007:

- Drip irrigated garden established at NMSU's Los Lunas Agricultural Science Center
- Drip irrigation/GPS project takes off at Clovis Agricultural Science Center
- Four Corners irrigation workshop to address area water issues
- San Juan Basin Extension Service hosts small acreage workshop
- NMSU helps sponsor Navajo Nation Equine Expo in Window Rock
- NMSU's Kids, Kows and More program teaches thousands about agriculture
- Western region leaders focus on Cooperative Extensions Service's Changing Role
- NMSU contributes to annual family and consumer sciences meeting
- High School students attend FFA State Career Development Events
- NMSU scientists prepare for next phase of research on Tibetan Plateau
- REDTT looks to further develop rural tourism in New Mexico
- NMSU's annual Indian Livestock Days will be in Farmington this year
- NMSU's School of HRTM teaches the finer points of landing and keeping a job
- NMSU faculty and staff honored for outstanding service at CAHE awards
- NMSU women's rodeo team ranked first in the nation
- Rodeo Team Sweeps Arizona Contest
- NMSU's Polo Team competes at national tournament